Educator Preview and Professional Learning

Wed 4 March 4.00pm – 6.00

You are warmly invited to join us for the first Educator Preview of 2015, with MPRG Educator Jill Anderson and a contemporary designer for light refreshments, insights and practical examples of the use of design thinking and making in the classroom to promote student engagement and creativity.

Can design harness the power of play?

Design Challenge: Look Think Create!

Inspired by the innovative ideas, designs and products in CUSP, students engage in a fun creative team design challenge that encourages them to think deeply, ask questions, devise creative solutions, make prototypes, trial, test and present their very own product!

$7.50/student    1 ½ Hours

Bespoke Gallery Sessions & Workshops – just for you!

In these bespoke gallery sessions and workshops, students explore critical and creative thinking in response to the contemporary designs solutions on display. They explore the design process including client briefs and use of materials as they consider the relationship between function, aesthetics, innovation and technology. Students gain insight into the designers' sources of inspiration, choice of materials and processes and the way ideas can be generated, explored and creatively communicated for design and product development. Workshops will inspire creative thinking, designing and making.

$7.50/student 1 ½ hours

Contact MPRG Educator Jill Anderson to discuss your class' curriculum needs for gallery sessions and workshops specific to VCE study designs, including:

Visual Communication Design

Product Design and Technology

Studio Arts

Applied Fashion Design and Technology

Workshop example:

Creative sustainability: Let your imagination go wild as you explore ethical design principles and follow the design process to create crazy cardboard clothes, creatures and costumes.

Workshop example:

Responsible design and creative body adornment: Follow a client brief to design and construct a body adornment of your choice.
